First-Draft Platform

Seek Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — First-draft planks of the Democratic 1972 platform called today for "an immediate and complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Indochina" and took a middle-ground stand on the hot domestic issue of racial school busing.

Both planks, and perhaps as many as a dozen others, headed into floor fights as the full 150-member drafting committee convened for a two-day session open to press and public.

Challenges were expected from both right and left on the eight-plank platform drafted by a 15-member drafting subcommittee which itself could not agree on a defense spending plank.

It sent two versions to the floor, one demanding a strong military stance to deter aggressors and keep the confidence of allies, the other suggesting that cutbacks should be undertaken.

The Vietnam plank denounced President Nixon's failure to make good on his 4-year-old promise of peace and declared that his Vietnamization program has been proved a delusion.

"The majority of the Democratic senators have called for full U.S. withdrawal by October 1, 1972. We support that position," the draft plank said.

"If the war is not ended before the next Democratic administration takes office, we pledge, as the first order of business, an immediate and complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Indochina."

"All U.S. military action in Southeast Asia will cease. After the end of U.S. direct combat participation, military aid to the Saigon government and elsewhere in Indochina will be terminated.

"The U.S. will no longer seek to determine the political future of the nations of Indochina."

The school-busing plank was quickly and sharply challenged by delegates supporting Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, who promised to offer a dissenting plank and carry the fight if necessary to the national convention opening July 10 in Miami Beach, Fla.

This was the first-draft statement:

"We support the goal of desegregation as a means to achieve equal access to quality education for all our children. Quality education is the issue— busing is not."

"Transportation of students is one of many tools available to achieve quality education. Where it serves that goal, we endorse it; where it does not serve that goal, we do not."

Alabama State Sen. Pierre Pelham, a Wallace spokesman, told reporters, "We wanted them to say there would be no busing solely to achieve racial balance. They (the drafting subcommittee) would not go for it. We will have a dissenting plank."

One of the two alternative planks on Pentagon spending did reflect the views of Wallace and of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash. It said:

"We propose a program of national defense which is both prudent and responsible, which will retain the confidence of our allies, and which will be a deterrent to potential aggressors."

The small drafting subcommittee labored almost all Saturday night to produce three domestic planks. The policies started with a "guaranteed job" proposal and federal income supports not unlike McGovern's share-the-wealth plan —but far less specific.

The three planks won general approval from spokesmen for Democratic presidential candidates. Back at its labors all day Sunday, the subcommittee planned to present a complete eight-plank draft to its parent committee by this morning.

That body in turn had 48 hours to rewrite and approval a final draft which must be in the mail to every delegate 10 days before the Democratic National convention opens in Miami Beach on July 10.

Sunday's draft planks called for a guaranteed job for everyone, plus replacement of the present welfare system by "an income-security program" providing federal payments to insure every family an income at or above the poverty level.

McGovern has urged a $1,000-per-person income grant for the poor and elimination of the $750 personal income-tax deduction—plus tax reform aimed at corporations and affluent individuals.

There are big hurdles ahead. Ten per cent of the drafting committee—any 15 members— could enter a dissent and each could be debated on the convention floor.

The draft planks released Sunday have these titles and these further basic provisions:

Jobs, Prices and Taxes:

—Endorsement of the Mills-Mansfield tax-reform plan, under which all preferences and loopholes would be repealed in groups from 1974 to 1976, unless retained after full consideration in Congress. This would thwart a McGovern plan; he has urged some immediate loophole-closings to help pay for his income-grant proposal.

—Converting Social Security into a progressive tax, bearing more heavily on the well-to-do, by increasing the basic amount of annual pay on which the payroll tax is levied. Cost-of-living increases in old-age pensions would be automatic.

—Property taxes would be reduced and school spending equalized by "substantial increases in the federal share of education costs and general revenue sharing."

Rights, Power and Social Justice:

—Endorses both national health insurance and no-fault automobile insurance.

—Legalization of class-action suits by which consumer groups can go into court on behalf of all consumers.

Cities, Communities and Environment:

—Devotes six pages to environmental recommendations which, according to platform drafters, will safeguard air, land and water from pollution without sacrificaing economic growth or jobs.

—The highway fund would be broadened to include funds for other transportation forms, including city mass-transit systems.

Delegate Challenge Met By Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Convention's Credentials Committee is wading into a massive round of delegate challenges that loom as the most critical hurdle left in George McGovern's path to the nomination.

In what may be the severest test yet of the party's sweeping reform rules—many of which were promulgated by McGovern—the panel must weigh a record 80 challenges affecting delegations from 30 states.

"McGovern's interest now," said his committee coordinator, Eli Segal, "is in a peaceful and harmonious convention. Credentials has the most potential for trouble."

Although McGovern strategists were working feverishly to minimize conflicts in the seating of delegates, several cases pose an inescapable dilemma to his followers who control the Credentials Committee.

By refusing to compromise McGovern's reform ideals, they could alienate Old Guard Democrats in Illinois and several other states whose support could prove vital to his chances against President Nixon. If, on the other hand, they gloss over reform violations, they risk imperiling his credibility among liberals, blacks, women and youth.

Moreover, in a challenge in California, any ruling favorable to those who contend the state's winner-take-all primary violated prohibitions against unit rule could cost McGovern his shot at a first-ballot nomination. He now claims all 271 California delegates, whose case will be heard today but likely not decided until late this week or early next.

McGovern's forces offered something of a unity concession Sunday night at the committee's organizing meeting, when they joined in the unanimous elevation of Patricia Harris, a black Washington attorney, from temporary to permanent chairman. They had opposed her original appointment several months ago on ground she was not enthusiastic enough in her commitments to reform.

Restrictions On Meat Are Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon lifted all quota restrictions on meat imports today "in an effort to remedy a short-term shortage" and curb rising meat prices.

But Nixon ruled out a freeze on meat and other food prices. Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz said at a White House news conference where Nixon's decision was announced.

Removal of the quotas for the rest of 1972 "may not fully solve the problem," Nixon said in a statement. "Further measures will be taken as necessary and appropriate."

Most of the imported meat is lower-cost cuts which go into processed products such as hamburger, hot dogs, salami and sausages.

McGovern Is Confident

Assured of New Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern said today he has received assurances of enough added support from blacks to assure him of a first-ballot nomination at the Democratic National Convention.

McGovern, Rep. Walter Fauntroy of the District of Columbia, Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, and other black delegates to the convention told a news conference they have pulled together in the past several days 96¾ previously uncommitted delegate votes for the South Dakota senator.

"There is no question now," McGovern said, "that this is enough to put us over the top in July on the first ballot. It gives us a generous margin of 1½," he said.

In return for the commitments of black delegates from 12 states and the District of Columbia, McGovern said he has assured black leaders that blacks would be appointed to federal judgeships and posts within a McGovern administration "in reasonable proportion" to their numbers in the population.

Fauntroy told newsmen the new McGovern delegate strength includes:

Alabama, 1 vote; Connecticut, 4; Louisiana, 14; Ohio, 8; Mississippi 16; Illinois, 5; Missouri, 8; New Jersey, 3; New York, 2; Virginia, 12; South Carolina, 7; Georgia 6; and D.C. 12¾.

The figures added up to 98¾ rather than 96¾. There was no immediate explanation for the discrepancy.

The announcement culminated several days of meetings and long-distance telephone calls seeking the previously uncommitted black delegates.

At an earlier news conference this morning, Stokes, head of the congressional black caucus, said the new McGovern delegates appeared to insure a first-ballot victory.

"We are confident that our bloc of votes will assure Senator McGovern the nomination on the first ballot," Stokes said.

"Sen. McGovern has pledged to support and work for the goals outlined in the Bill of Rights of the Congressional Black Caucus," Stokes said at a news conference. "He has pledged to fight with us for full citizenship and equality of opportunity for all citizens in every sector of our national life.

"We shall...work in our own communities and all across the land to bring together the political support needed to assure the election of Sen. McGovern."

Stokes said one of the group's immediate goals is to have nine million blacks registered "and ready to march" in November.

Before Sunday, the McGovern office was claiming first-ballot support from 1,413 delegates.

However, The Associated Press poll gave McGovern 1,335.15 as of Sunday night.

In a separate move also related to black delegates, McGovern's chief rival, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, met Sunday with black Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York. Aides of Mrs. Chisholm and the Minnesota senator planned their own news conference for later today.

The McGovern Southern trip, which has been in the planning stages at least since the first week of June, includes appearances in Oklahoma City and San Antonio, Tex., today. Tuesday he will be in Little Rock, Ark., and Atlanta and Wednesday in Columbia, S.C., and, tentatively, Richmond, Va.

The South generally is considered McGovern's weakest section. Southern Democratic governors at the National Governors Conference in Houston early in June said McGovern would lose their states to President Nixon.

Meanwhile, the Democratic panels on credentials and platform continued sessions in Washington, preparing for the national convention that opens in Miami Beach July 10.

The 15-member drafting subcommittee of the Platform Committee reached agreement Sunday on a job-price-taxes plank that is less specific than what McGovern has been advocating.

The economic plank calls for a job for everyone, replacing the welfare system with a program of federal income assistance, and a fair plan for stabilizing prices, profits, dividends, wages and executive salaries.

Flood Waters Recede

Begin Cleanup Chores

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Massive cleanup, relief and rebuilding efforts have begun as the flood waters recede in the devastated East. The death toll from the week-long storm stood at 117 today and tens of thousands remained homeless.

As the rivers returned to their banks, thousands returned to their homes and businesses to clear away silt with shovels and brooms, and there was a break in the crisis that began when the storm named Agnes slammed across the Florida coast on her disastrous course a week ago.

With property damage over the $1 billion mark in Pennsylvania alone, the storm-torn states looked to the federal government for assistance, and a presidential aide promised it would be forthcoming.

The pledge came after the governors of five states and a representative from a sixth met in Harrisburg, Pa., Sunday with George A. Lincoln, director of the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Red Cross officials said 112,000 homeless people were being cared for at 330 emergency shelters in Pennsylvania, New York, Virginia and Maryland, and they launched a disaster fund campaign for $10 million.

While most of the flood threat was past, watches were still kept in several areas including Petersburg, Va., where the Appomattox River was not expected to crest until tonight, and Almond, N.Y., threatened by a 14-mile-long artificial lake of rainwater behind a highway embankment.

There were some local problems in New York and Pennsylvania with spectators and looters.

A lack of potable drinking water was reported in at least 80 communities in Pennsylvania. In New York a shortage of containers for bringing in water was reported in Elmira.

At the meeting in Harrisburg Sunday, OEP director Lincoln told the governors that federal assistance ranging from rent-free, temporary housing to unemployment compensation would be available.

Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp expressed concern that the aid would not filter through the red tape quickly enough. Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel said he feared that not enough funds would be available.

Lincoln said the aid would be swift, sufficient and widespread.

Other governors attending the meeting were Linwood Holton of Virginia, Russell W. Peterson of Delaware and William T. Cahill of New Jersey. New York's vacationing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller sent a representative.

Red Cross President George M. Elsey announced his organization's $10 million disaster fund campaign after a seven-hour aerial survey of the affected area. He estimated that more than 30,000 families in five states would need Red Cross assistance.

Ann Landers

Difficult To Think Of Spot As Animal

Dear Ann Landers: Frequently in your column you have said, "It's wonderful to enjoy pets, but people should remember that an animal is an animal and ought not to be confused with a human." After 11 years, we had to put Spot to sleep. It's difficult to think of him as an animal. He was such a dear friend.

Spot knew the days of the week. Every Sunday morning he'd get up and leap around because he knew the rest of the family would be over!

Spot understood certain words. If anyone said "garbage" he'd run to the door because he knew he was going to get a little walk.

He knew the word "car." The moment he heard it he'd head for the door and make it plain that he intended to go along for the ride. Spot could tell time. He retired every night at 9:30 p.m. Precisely on the dot, he'd get up and head for his room. Before leaving he'd pause briefly in the doorway and turn around to look at us with those wonderful eyes as if to say, "Goodnight."

Spot was no fancy pedigree. He was only a mutt, but he loved life and he gave our lives a great deal of meaning. I will never be sure how much dog he was and how much human. — Miss Him

Dear Miss Him: I know your letter touched millions of readers. Thank you for a real heart-warmer.

Dear Ann Landers: We are having a slight disagreement in our family. My brother who is about to become engaged is 20 years of age. His girl is 18. Several months ago Vic was arrested on a drug charge (both possession and sale). He received probation, which he is now under.

Vic has a good construction job with opportunity for advancement. He is taking college courses at night. He has also taken on an extra weekend job so he can repay our parents for the money they paid out in legal fees. His ideas have changed a great deal since he got into trouble.

Our mother believes the girl's parents should be told about Vic's past difficulties. We feel there is no need for them to know. They are very conservative people and it would upset them considerable. It could also conceivable interfere with the future plans of the couple.

Please print your answer in the paper as there are probably a lot of young people who are groping with similar problems. — Puzzled Family

Dear Family: Vic should tell his fiancee's family as soon as possible that he is on probation for possession and selling of drugs. If he withholds this information and they learn of it elsewhere he will have compounded the damage. To marry the girl without informing her family would be a serious mistake.

Dear Ann Landers: Although most of my friends have had offbeat weddings I want a traditional ceremony, a white gown, and I'm even going to promise to love, honor and obey.

My fiance is four inches shorter than I am which doesn't bother me. But it bothers my mother. She wants Frankie to wear elevator shoes. I think it's ridiculous. Frankie is perfectly willing to wear elevator shoes to please Mom.

This has gotten to be the center of a family debate, and there's a deadlock, so YOU, Ann Landers, are going to cast the deciding vote. Yes or no? — A Of Venezuela

Dear A.: The only vote that should count is Frankie's and he has already voted yes, so that settles it.

What Causes Ear Blockage?

Dear Dr. Lamb — What causes the blocking of the ear such as what occurs when descending from altitude? In my case, this occurs several times a day. It is very irritating when talking because I suddenly feel that I am talking too loudly or unclearly, then I find myself concentrating on this rather than on what I am saying.

I have gone to two doctors and they told me this was likely due to ear infections I had as a child. One stated that I may eventually need an operation and the other gave me pills which didn't help any. I have had this problem approximately seven years, but the blocking seems to be happening more regularly as time progresses. What do you think I should do?

Dear Reader — You should make arrangements to see an ear, nose and throat specialist. Your family doctor can refer you to one or you can obtain the names of specialists for this problem with a telephone call to the nearest county medical society. You may also write to your state medical association to ask for the name and location of ear doctors who are closest to your home.

The ear is affected by changes in altitude because of the difference in pressure across the eardrum between the external ear and middle ear chamber. The external ear is the ear at the side of the head, plus the canal that funnels sound into the ear. The canal itself is really a blind tube closed with the white, glistening membrane of the eardrum.

The middle ear is the next compartment. Inside the eardrum is a great hollow chamber, the middle ear. At the bottom of this hollow chamber is a tube that passes downward and opens in the back of the throat (eustachian tube). Through this tube the middle ear chamber communicates with the air in mouth. When air pressure builds up in the middle chamber, air is forced out the tube and into the mouth. If the pressure in the chamber falls, air is sucked up into the chamber through this same tube. This way, the pressure can be changed in the middle ear chamber.

When you go to altitude, the thin air creates less pressure at the external ear, the air in the hollow middle ear is under greater pressure and can push your eardrums out. The ear is protected against this by leaking air from the middle ear chamber through the tube to the mouth.

When descending from altitude, as the air pressure increases, the external pressure against the eardrum pushes inward. Too much pushing in and out of the eardrum causes irritation called barotrauma.

Overgrowth of tissue in the throat near the tube opening may make it impossible for air to pass freely in and out of the middle ear chamber. Sometimes, surgical removal of the overgrown tissue is needed.

I doubt your problem is bartorauma, since it occurs several times a day without changing altitude. More likely it is related to ear damage that amplifies some sounds but not others. This occurs most often with increasing age.

Your ears are exceptionally important, and anyone who is having hearing problems certainly deserves a careful examination by a specialist.

Deadline Announced For County Farmers

Farmers who are signed up in the feed grain and wheat programs have until July 3 to certify their planted crops and set-aside acres, Samuel Hieronymus, chairman of the Pettis County ASCS Committee announced last week.

The Monday deadline must be observed if farmers wish to take advantage of the program, he said. The ASCS office will be open until 6 p.m. this Tuesday and Thursday.

Gallup Poll Gives Support to Nixon

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Nixon's performance in office appears to have the approval of a majority of Americans, according to a Gallup Poll.

The results of the survey were released Sunday and showed that 60 per cent of those interviewed said they approved of the President's actions. Thirty-two per cent said they disapproved, and the remaining eight per cent indicated they had no opinion.

Louis Harris Survey

Kennedy Has the Best Chances

By LOUIS HARRIS

Although President Nixon has gained substantial ground in the wake of his summit trip to Russia, Sen. Edward Kennedy has emerged — as of now — as the potential Democratic candidate who runs the strongest race against the Republican incumbent in the White House. This latest survey is based on a national cross section of 1,401 voters interviewed between June 7 and 12.

In a three-way contest against Richard Nixon and Gov. George Wallace on a third-party ticket, Sen. Kennedy trails the President by a 43-37 per cent margin, with the Alabama Governor at 16 per cent. The current front-runner for the Democratic nomination, Sen. George McGovern, runs behind Nixon by 45-33 per cent, with Wallace at 17 per cent. Sen. Hubert Humphrey trails by an even wider 47-31 per cent, with Wallace's vote at 17 per cent. Sen. Edmund Muskie is even farther behind by a margin of 49-28 per cent, with Wallace at 18 per cent.

If Gov. Wallace chooses not to run as a third-party candidate, President Nixon's lead over all four Democrats increases. Contrary to earlier trends in these surveys, there is little doubt now that a Wallace withdrawal from the race would help Nixon more than any potential Democratic opponent.

In two-way contests, Sen. Kennedy trails Nixon by a 53-41 per cent margin, Sen. McGovern is behind by 54-38 per cent, Sen. Humphrey finishes with 58-34 per cent, and Sen. Muskie trails by 59-33 per cent.

Thus, with the Democratic convention only two weeks away, President Nixon holds a commanding lead against the field of prominently mentioned possible Democratic candidates. Of that field, however, Sen. Kennedy would now appear to be capable of running the strongest race.

When matched in a three-way contest against President Nixon as a Republican and former Sen. Eugene McCarthy as a third-party candidate, Gov. Wallace as the Democratic nominee finishes in third place. Nixon leads with 52 per cent, McCarthy is second with 21 per cent, and Wallace as a Democrat is third with 20 per cent. In a two-way race, Nixon far outdistances Wallace by 64-24 per cent.

Here is the trend of Nixon-Kennedy-Wallace trial heats in response to this basic question: "Suppose in 1972 for President it were between Nixon the Republican, Senator Edward Kennedy for the Democrats, and George Wallace as an Independent. If you had to choose, whom would you be for?"

	Nixon %	Kennedy %	Wallace %	Not Sure %
June, 1972	43	37	16	4
May	42	38	14	6
April	45	35	14	6
Jan.	45	39	10	6
Nov., 1971	45	37	11	7
Sept.	45	38	11	6
Aug.	48	37	11	4
July	44	36	13	7

In a period of Nixon gains resulting from the widespread approval of his summit agreements in Moscow, Sen. Kennedy has lost a net of only two points to the incumbent Republican. In other match-ups, Democrats have lost on both sides of the ledger — their percentages have been dropping while the President's rises. McGovern, who was winning a string of six primaries while the President was in Russia, has dropped two points while Nixon was gaining five for a net drop of seven points.

Nixon-McGovern-Wallace Trend

	Nixon %	McGovern %	Wallace %	Not Sure %
June, 1972	45	33	17	5
May	40	35	17	8
April	47	29	16	8
March	53	28	13	6
Aug., 1971	48	33	13	6
May	47	33	11	9
April	46	36	13	5
Feb.	45	34	12	9

McGovern's chief opponent in the California primary, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, dropped even more precipitously, from a 4-point to a 16-point deficit behind President Nixon:

Nixon-Humphrey-Wallace Trend

	Nixon %	Humphrey %	Wallace %	Not Sure %
June, 1972	47	31	17	5
May	41	37	16	6
April	42	36	16	6
March	48	35	12	5
Feb.	47	36	12	5
Jan.	46	37	12	5
Sept., 1971	45	36	12	7

Sen. Muskie, who has renewed his campaign for the nomination, fares least well of all of the prominently mentioned possible Democratic nominees.

Nixon-Muskie-Wallace Trend

	Nixon %	Muskie %	Wallace %	Not Sure %
June, 1972	49	28	18	5
April	44	33	15	8
March	47	35	12	6
Feb.	44	40	11	5
Jan.	42	35	11	7
Sept., 1971	47	35	11	7

With Wallace out of the race as a third-party candidate, here is how the five leading Democratic possibilities line up against Richard Nixon.

Nixon vs. Leading Democrats

	Nixon %	Democrat %	Not Sure %
Nixon vs.:
Kennedy	53	41	6
McGovern	54	38	8
Humphrey	58	34	8
Muskie	59	33	8
Wallace	64	24	12

It should be cautioned that these current results probably represent a high-water mark for Nixon, and any Presidential race is likely to narrow as election day approaches. But, for the moment, it is apparent that summit politics are far more effective in winning voter favor than primary politics, if these latest results are any indication.

New Test Could Detect Illness

CARMEL, Calif. (AP) — Many of the 1.5 million strokes that occur in the United States each year could be prevented through a simple new test that reveals conditions leading to a stroke, two UCLA medical researchers say.

A sensitive electronic device placed on the forehead above the eye monitors sound waves from blood flowing through the opthalmic artery, a branch of the internal carotid artery where many strokes take place, the doctors said.

The sound from the opthalmic reflects the condition of the carotid artery serving the brain, and if the sounds show clogging of the carotid, treatment can begin, Drs. Herbert I. Machleder and Wiley Barker told the International Cardiovascular Society's weekend meeting here.

The doctors said preliminary tests on 123 patients found 23 with carotid impairment not disclosed before.

No Real Handicap

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — A judge known never to have driven a car was asked how he coped with auto accident cases in court. "It's really no handicap," he replied. "I also try rape cases."

Martha Mitchell says she loves her husband "very much" but is "leaving him until he decides to leave" President Nixon's re-election organization. Mrs. Mitchell told of her decision Sunday in a tearful telephone call to Helen Thomas of UPI in Thurmont, Md. (UPI)

Four Persons Drown; Mishap Claims Two

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons drowned Sunday in Kansas.

Edward Harkins, 16, Kansas City, Kan., drowned in an apartment complex swimming pool in Kansas City, Kan.

A 15-year-old Topeka youth, Michael Johnson, drowned while swimming in Mill Creek, in Waubaunsee County, about 1½ miles north of Interstate 70 at the Maple Hill exit.

Two men from the Abilene, Kan., area were reported missing and presumed drowned following a boating accident on the Milford Reservoir. The Geary County sheriff would not release the men's names pending recovery of the bodies. The report said one man was thrown from a boat and a younger man had jumped in to aid him.

Sees Need for 'Raw Power'

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The new president of the National Education Association says the only way to meet the educational needs of all children is with "raw political power."

Mrs. Catharine Barrett, a Syracuse, N.Y., inner city elementary teacher for more than 40 years, takes over leadership of the 1.2 million-teacher organization Friday at the conclusion of the NEA's 110th annual meeting.

In an interview, Mrs. Barrett said her two top priorities will be to "make teachers recognize political force" and to "achieve legislation which by 1976 will see the federal government contributing one-third the cost of education."

With teachers already organized politically in 42 states, Mrs. Barrett said she is hopeful that they will have an impact on presidential balloting and congressional elections in November.

For the past year, as president-elect of the NEA, Mrs. Barrett has spent much of her time touring the United States advising teacher groups on how to organize politically.

Here are her answers to specific questions: Q. Can teacher groups or yourself support President Nixon in the November election?

A. "Mr. Nixon is very negative as far as education is concerned — whether it be a budget proposition, whether in vetoing a proposal, whether in failure to support funds for education and whether to support busing. He would take society back to an era we got rid of years ago. There is nothing in the Nixon administration to indicate his support of education or that he's prepared to take action to give every youngster an equitable opportunity."

Q. Have teachers become more politically active? Do you think they can be united at the polls on the local and national levels?

A. "Teachers in 42 states have organized teacher political action committees. In New York State, teachers are organized in all key legislative districts and are now endorsing candidates after intensive study. They also are organizing in congressional districts and will issue report cards on candidates' educational voting records so that teachers are able to make a complete judgment. Whether the NEA will endorse a presidential candidate will depend on the membership. It is more than possible that we will."

Q. What will be your top priority this coming year?

A. "I have two priorities and they are side by side. I want to make teachers recognize political force and to achieve legislation which by 1976 will see the federal government contributing at least one-third the cost of education. The highest it's ever been was 8.8 per cent and this past year was only 7.1 per cent.

Music Star Feels 'Good' About Returning Home

"The hometown boy," as LeRoy Van Dyke was introduced by one of his band members, was home again Friday night performing before a crowd of 700 in the Coliseum on the Missouri State Fairgrounds, and the feeling was good. Van Dyke said as much in an interview with The Democrat-Capital moments before he bounded across the arena's dirt floor to a temporary platform to begin his show.

Van Dyke, who spent the first 11 years of his life on a farm on Route 2, Sedalia, said, "people in Sedalia have been awfully good to me. You know, some people say the people in your hometown don't care about you, but people here do. They really do."

Looking to those who have graduated from Smith-Cotton High School 25 years ago, Van Dyke recalled meeting Pettis Countians "all over the world." The country-western music star added, "They're always good, loyal supporters."

The travel involved in his business troubles Van Dyke to an extent. He told The Democrat-Capital his wife has become "tuned to the business," but he hopes to begin spending "60 per cent of my time in cattle and ... in the very near future." Van Dyke, admits he wants to slow the pace of his life because "I want my children to grow up near agriculture."

Van Dyke spent his childhood close to agriculture, living on a farm near Smithton until he left home to attend the University of Missouri. He remarked that every time he brings his show to the Missouri State Fair "somebody'll say, 'remember when we used to bail hay together or drove trucks.'"

Queried about the effect of country and western on other forms of music, Van Dyke said, "There are elements of country and western in almost all other music." He cited the influence of the Everly Brothers on the Beatles.

Van Dyke termed country and western music "one of the most significant" influences on rock-'n-roll. However, "Country and western music is getting stronger and stronger all the time," because, he said, "more people can identify with it. That's why it stays through all the fads."

Pointing to the personal side of the business, Van Dyke said his biggest thrill was "the first time I heard my first record on the radio. I almost ran my car into the Illinois River." He said he was crossing the river at Peoria, Ill., and "had to stop the car just to listen to the song."

$1,500 Damage Is Done By Fire At New Theatre Site

Sedalia firemen were called to the Jerry Lewis Cinema, 16th and State Fair Blvd., at 8:38 a.m. Sunday to extinguish a fire which started when a short circuit in a faulty extension cord set fire to nearby cardboard boxes containing theater seats. The fire was extinguished with a booster line.

According to a report, the fire caused $500 damage to the building and $1,000 damage to 12 or 15 seats. A spokesman for the theater said the fire would not delay the scheduled July 7 opening.

Firemen also responded to a grass fire at 1200 block of South Moniteau at 8:12 p.m. Sunday. No damage was reported.

According to a report, the cause of the fire was listed as children playing with matches. The fire was out before firemen arrived.

Viet Steel Plant Is Hit By Planes

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. pilots knocked out North Vietnam's only steel plant, put a power plant out of operation and dropped two bridges in weekend raids, the U.S. Command reported today.

Radio Hanoi claimed that six U.S. F4 Phantoms were shot down, but the U.S. Command said it had no plane losses to report. However, it is the command's policy to withhold such information as long as rescue operations are in progress.

U.S. pilots flew more than 270 strikes on Saturday and a like number on Sunday.

One flight of four Phantoms hit the Viet Tri thermal power plant 25 miles northwest of Hanoi on Sunday with 2,000-pound, laser-guided bombs. They "effectively destroyed the plant's capability to produce electrical power for the nearby industrial complex," a communique said.

Reconnaissance photos confirmed the destruction of the boiler facility, the electrical switching building, and the flue and coal conveyor, the communique said.

It was learned that the Viet Tri plant was attacked on June 1 with laser bombs, but that raid was not announced because it failed to put the plant out of commission.

The 7th Air Force announced that four of its Phantoms dropped laser-guided, 2,000-pound bombs into the open hearth furnaces of the Thai Nguyen steel plant 30 miles north of Hanoi on Saturday. Sixteen other Phantoms bombed warehouse areas.

The Air Force said part of the plant was not hit but the destruction of the furnaces destroyed North Vietnam's entire capacity for producing structural steel for railroads, bridges and buildings.

About 100 U.S. B52s bombed North Vietnamese positions along South Vietnam's northern front for the fourth successive day, dropping 2,500 tons of explosives across a wide area around enemy-held Quang Tri City and in the foothills and mountains west of Hue.

The North Vietnamese renewed their heavy shelling of the defense line at My Chanh, 25 miles north of Hue. Nearly 600 artillery and mortar rounds hit South Vietnamese positions there today.

A North Vietnamese force with at least two tanks made a ground attack on one South Vietnamese position. The Saigon command claimed that 35 North Vietnamese and one South Vietnamese were killed and 29 government troops were wounded. The tanks apparently escaped.

The U.S. Command disclosed that it is absorbing the tactical operations centers of both the 7th Air Force and Strategic Air Command, but it denied that this was because of the unauthorized Air Force strikes against North Vietnam earlier this year that touched off a congressional investigation.

U.S. spokesmen said the move had been planned before the disclosure that resulted in the dismissal and demotion of the commander of the 7th Air Force, Gen. John D. Lavelle.

Pilot Grove Woman Killed In Accident

(Democrat-Capital Service)

BOONVILLE — Mrs. Alice Blank, 38, Pilot Grove, was killed late Saturday evening in a one-car accident about four-fifths of a mile east of Route K near here.

She was a passenger in a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Dale Benjamin Elliot, 28, also of Pilot Grove. Highway Patrol authorities reported the car went out of control and plunged down a 30-foot embankment.

Elliot was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Two Hitchhikers Disrobed, Then Robbed By Men

(Democrat-Capital Service)

KNOB NOSTER — Two hitchhiking Centerview youths were forced to disrobe and then were robbed by the men who had given them a ride at about 7:45 p.m. Saturday at the Knob Noster State Park.

David Lee Winnie, 19, and Kenneth E. Gastineau, 20, told Johnson County Sheriff's officers they were hitchhiking south of Sedalia and were picked up by the driver of a 1966 or 1967 maroon Pontiac Catalina. There were two other men in the car.

After getting to the state park, the three men forced their victims at gun point and knife point to take their clothes off and then robbed them.

Winnie reported losing $19 and a credit card. Gastineau told authorities he lost $20. All of Gastineau's clothing and Winnie's boots were recovered.

The victims described two of their assailants as being black. Police said they have arrested no suspects in the crime but are investigating the reports that the car had a Sedalia city tax sticker.

The world War II-vintage plane, owned and flown by Cliff McMullin, 43, Rose, Okla., went down one-half mile west of the New Bethel Church on South Highway 65 at 4:35 p.m. June 18. McMullin escaped from the downed plane shortly before it caught fire.

According to a sheriff's report, the Continental engine weighed 170 pounds. Fairfax said the wreckage remained at the crash site prior to an investigation by Federal Aviation Administration officials.

Wheat is an excellent hog feed and can be used as the only source of grain. Wheat is a very good cattle feed up to about 50 per cent of the total concentrate ration.

On a per bushel basis wheat has a value equal to 110 to 115 per cent of that of corn. Wheat has an equal up to 5 per cent greater value than corn for up to 50 per cent of the total concentrate ration for cattle.

In general, wheat is slightly more palatable than corn for hogs, slightly less palatable for cattle. Should be processed by grinding or preferable by rolling to reduce dust and fine particles. You may want to consider wheat in your rations this summer. Wheat has more protein than corn. Ration adjustment for this difference is desirable.

Deadline for Fish

Deadline to apply for fingerling fish from the Missouri Department of Conservation for stocking ponds and lakes this fall is July 15.

The department provides without charge an initial stocking of fish for new or recently renovated lakes and ponds meeting certain minimum requirements.

Application blanks for fish are available at the Extension office, 4th & Lamine. About two weeks before delivery, applicants are notified of the exact time and place to meet the fish truck. The applicant or his representative may pick up the fish.

There is no size limitation, but the pond or lake must be a permanent body of water at least eight feet deep in the deepest part to prevent winter kill. Further requirements are that no fish be present prior to stocking and that the pond or lake be fenced or protected against damage from livestock.

Poison Ivy

The call of the great outdoors sometimes ends with an itching rash and blisters, caused by contact with poison ivy.

The number of persons suffering discomfort after exposure to poison ivy is greatest during the summer. However, that is mainly because more people are moving about in poison ivy areas during summer. The plant can be poisonous all year long.

The sure way to avoid a case of poison ivy is to recognize and avoid the plant.

In Missouri poison ivy exists as a vine or shrub. Leaflets are usually a glossy green and have one of thee types of margins — smooth, toothed, or slightly lobed.

There is an old saying, "Leaflets three, let it be." That is good advice concerning poison ivy, since the leaves always consist of three leaflets.

All parts of the poison ivy plant are irritating to the skin. All parts of the body which come in contact with poison ivy should be washed with soap and water. If the irritation becomes serious, a doctor should be seen.

The clothing worn at the time of exposure should be washed thoroughly and separately before wearing again.

Although poison ivy plants can be controlled by hand chopping, the best way is to spray with a herbicide.

Fly Control

Face fly control is difficult on beef cattle, but try dust bags or back-rubbers using ronnel or toxaphene like you would for horn flies.

Place back-rubbers and dust bags close to water and shade to get maximum use. Some mineral feeders are equipped with bags or cloth flaps that will get some insecticide on the animal's head when they eat mineral. What about insecticide in mineral feeds? Several different commercial minerals are available with insecticides that kill fly larvae that hatch in manure. Each company has a different trade name for their product. However, the insecticide is either phenothiazine or ronnel. Either of these chemicals will do a good job of killing fly larvae if the cow eats mineral every day. Cows do not eat mineral every day. Also, horn flies will travel a quarter of a mile and face flies will travel a mile — so even then, you may have a fly problem.

Research shows that this method of fly control costs up to $8 per cow, and does less than sprays, dust bags and back-rubbers.

Use 1 per cent Dioxathion, 1 per cent Ronnel or 5 per cent Toxaphene and recharge back-rubbers every two weeks for beef cattle fly control.

Pink Eye

Pink eye is making its presence known in the area. Since pink eye is contagious, it will spread through a herd rapidly and calves with serious cases may become blind. This causes considerable loss in pounds of beef, because calves that get pink eye will not do well. This disease may be spread by contact with infected animals, and face flies also spread the infection. Infected cattle get more irritation from tall grass, weeds, flies, sunlight, etc.

There seems to be two strains of pink eye, and they are difficult to control. There are times when IBR symptoms may be mistaken for pink eye.

Pink eye and IBR viruses cannot be controlled with insecticides designed to control fly problems. You can control IBR with vaccines (use killed vaccine form) on open cows. Calves may be vaccinated prior to weaning.

If you get pink eye problems, you should isolate those that are infected from the herd as soon as possible. Treat the eye with com-biotic and protect the infected eye with a canvas patch held in place over the eye with livestock tag cement. Spray the eye with fly repellent. The patch will stay on about seven to ten days and by that time the eye is pretty well healed. Consult your veterinarian for diagnosis.

Soybean Problems

We have had some encounters with seed rots and the common seedling disease was Rhizoctonia. Soybeans are resourceful in adapting to these injuries. If populations have not been thinned too drastically, most fields will make up for a few lost plants.

Herbicide injuries have been reported. Some heavy rains drove certain herbicides down into the root zone in a few cases resulting in injury to the roots. There have been other cases in which we could suspect a residue influence from the former year. Herbicide injuries are not easy to evaluate because they can be complicated by diseases and other disorders. Fortunately, soybeans are resourceful in adpating to herbicide injuries, and will often look much better after the first impact.

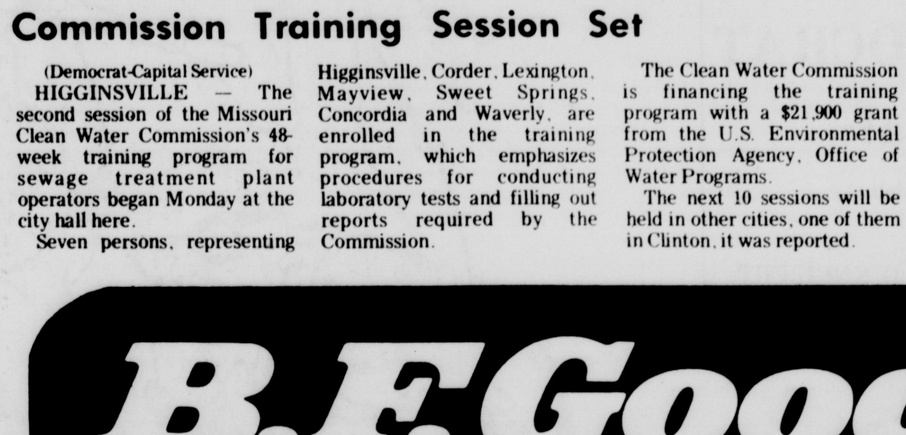

Elm Leaf Beetle

Treatment should begin at the first signs of leaf (undersides) feeding. When treating for elm leaf beetle remember that all species of elms are affected but the problem is greater on Siberian (Chinese) elm. Spray a five foot diameter of the sod of the trunk of the tree with toxaphene, diazinon or sevin.

Spider Mites

Spider mites have caused some browning of evergreen needles. The warmer, drier weather apparently has caused a buildup of these mites. Infested plants usually are "off color" or dull green instead of the bright green of healthy plants. To check for an infestation, hold a white cloth or piece of paper beneath a small branch of the plant with one hand and with the other hand strike the branch sharply to jar off the mites.

Spider mites can be controlled with a spray of dicofol or malathion. Thorough coverage of the foliage is essential for good control and a second application may be needed in 7 to 10 days.

Commission Training Session Set

(Democrat-Capital Service)

HIGGINSVILLE — The second session of the Missouri Clean Water Commission's 48-week training program for sewage treatment plant operators began Monday at the city hall here.

Seven persons, representing Higginsville, Corder, Lexington, Mayview, Sweet Springs, Concordia and Waverly, are enrolled in the training program, which emphasizes procedures for conducting laboratory tests and filling out reports required by the Commission.

The Clean Water Commission is financing the training program with a $21,900 grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Office of Water Programs.

The next 10 sessions will be held in other cities, one of them in Clinton, it was reported.

Rooting Shrubs Possible Now

Cuttings of many shrubs may be rooted in mid-summer, including forsythia, rose, willow, euonymus, holly, yew, barberry, azalea, magnolia, lilac and many more.

Once begun, propagating plants may become a captivating hobby and each plant a challenge. In the beginning you may choose to try some of the more easily rooted plants such as forsythia, but finally everyone attempts those more difficult.

When the cutting, or slip, is taken from the mother plant, its supply of water is greatly reduced. Therefore, the cutting must be put in something sufficiently enclosed to keep a high humidity around it.

For rooting a few cuttings, a covered aquarium may be used. Flower pots, milk cartons, wooden boxes or flats all make suitable containers when covered with transparent plastic. A large plastic bag may be easily slipped over a large flower pot to provide excellent conditions for rooting cuttings on the window sill.

Outdoors, a large box or coldframe covered with glass sash or plastic covered frames makes a good progagation bed for the home. It should be located in the shade, such as on the north side of a building.

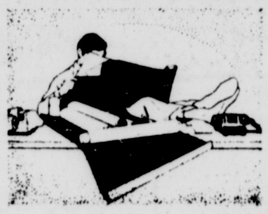

Large numbers of cuttings are usually rooted under mist systems which spray over the foliage intermittently to keep the foliage moist.

One part clean sand and one part peat moss mixed together make a good all-purpose rooting mixture. Vermiculite also may be used alone or mixed with peat moss. Perlite is another material often used in the propagation bed.

These materials, if handled carefully, should not need sterilization. Because some diseases thrive in the moist, warm conditions of the propagation bed, cleanliness is very important.

Cuttings from many woody plants should be made just as the new wood is beginning to mature. Do not take cuttings from excessively vigorous shoots, from thin weak growth, or from flowering shoots. They all generally root poorly. Select healthy shoots of medium vigor.

Democratic reforms spell turmoil

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

NEA News Analyst

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Democrats, never noted for quiet, may have assured the worst convention turmoil in their history when they threw their party doors wide open in a broad reform move.

The party is properly proud that it has made way for significantly greater participation — as delegates — of women, blacks and young people. In this sense, the proceedings which begin at Miami Beach July 10 will be conducted by the most balanced, representative body ever to choose a Democratic presidential nominee.

Biossat

If the percentages hold in the delegate-selecting still to be done in these closing days, more than 85 per cent of the delegates who turn up in Florida will be newcomers to the national convention scene. Putting it the other way, the repeaters — people who have attended prior conventions — will constitute 15 per cent of the total convention roster, at most.

Healthy thing, right? Get rid of a lot of party dead wood, infuse the affair with new vigor and spirit, liven up the whole business.

Who can deny the proposition? Who can argue, furthermore, that it won't be interesting to see a convention populated by upwards of 35 per cent women, 20 per cent young folks, and some 15 per cent blacks and other non-whites?

Nevertheless, this great new mix does indeed promise chaos inside the hall. These new people are not just going to Miami Beach to pick a presidential candidate. From all preliminary signs, they have a good deal more on their minds.

They know the uses of the arena, and there is none bigger than a national convention hall caught for days in telvision's glare.

Many of these newcomers, then, will be bent on doing their thing. Given their inevitable variety as people, that means this convention is in for a great many "things" new to such a gathering.

Obviously, on the basis of their behavior this year at countless party caucuses and a dozen or two state conventions, a lot of their effort will be directed toward reinforming their own identities. We will hear much about the "rights" and the demands of women, the young, the blacks, Chicanos and others.

When it is time to shape a final party platform, we will hear, too, how these demands should — in their view — be cast in hard type with full party sanction.

The proposals may all have been well-aired in committee hearings beforehand, but in this ferment of new delegates there is likely to be little regard for rules which may say enough is enough. There will be plenty of shouting and clamor, and possibly a little storming of the rostrum. Minnesota's state party convention got its full taste of that in mid-June.

Again, judging from what has already happened in the states, nothing will be too sweeping or too outlandish. Minnesota now has a party platform plank endorsing "marriage" among homosexuals.

What will all this do for the image of the Democratic party and its 1972 presidential nominee? Watching Americans may just decide it's a great show, and be unaffected in their voting. Or they may decide that a party so ridden by chaos should not hold the White House.

Whatever else it does, it ought to make the fellows who preside over this coming convention overwhelming, automatic choices for Men of the Year. They'll earn the award every minute they're up there.

Unit pricing success up to the consumer

Could it be the confused consumer needs a batting coach to sharpen his swing at buying the groceries?

After much initial kicking and screaming and cries that "the cost will ruin us," supermarkets across the country are now displaying unit prices for many or all foods on their shelves.

Unit pricing, when its use began to spread in all sizes of food stores slightly more than two years ago, was heralded as another home run for consumerism. Much behind-the-scenes jawboning by consumer advocates and vote-hungry politicians went into the promotion of this aid to better buying.

The basic idea is to provide a sound method of comparing the prices of, say, two items by their volume to select the better buy. However, a recent survey reveals that someone is dropping the ball as far as unit pricing in practice is concerned.

Who is to blame?

It is generally agreed that the distinterested consumer contributes more than his share to the current ineffectiveness of unit pricing.

What excuse may a consumer offer while complaining about the mounting weekly food bill when he refuses to utilize what can be a money-saving aid available in so many stores? Many women, for example, say they do not have time to read the tags that list the prices. Others cling to normally more expensive products because of brand names and refuse to sample other foodstuffs with unfamiliar labels.

But there is a problem in unit pricing. This is the legitimate complaint of consumer specialists who point out that many stores make the computerized print-out tag a jumble of numerals, difficult to decipher. If, as surveys show, stores that heavily promote and explain unit pricing to their customers have the highest useage response by its customers, then more stores should be encouraged by their shoppers to provide such information in a clear, understandable and accessible manner.

It all boils down to the fact that the key to making unit pricing work to aid the family food budget rests with the consumer. The food stores have thrown the ball and it is up to the individual consumer to swing his own bat.

New Pentagon papers reveal war lessons

By JACK ANDERSON

The history of our secret negotiations with Hanoi contains some painful lessons, which still seem to be disregarded in the quest for a Vietnam peace.

The agonizing details appear in the unpublished portions of the Pentagon Papers, which Daniel Ellsburg carefully withheld from the press.

President Nixon, however, has made public even more sensitive negotiations than are described in the suppressed papers. The Justice Department is also preparing to use these papers in its prosecution of Ellsburg. There appears to be no legitimate reason, therefore, for continuing the secrecy.

We have a copy of the unpublished Pentagon Papers, which give a chronological account of our diplomatic frustrations in seeking an end to the Vietnam war. Here are the lessons, which seemed to us to be the most compelling:

Lesson No. 1 — Ex-President Lyndon Johnson orchestrated the bombing of North Vietnam in careful synchronization with the peace negotiations. He alternately suspended and escalated the bombing in an effort to influence the negotiations. Invariably, this seemed to produce the opposite effect in Hanoi than Johnson had intended. Yet President Nixon is now using the same strategy.

Lesson No. 2 — The North Vietnamese, whether on the battlefield or at the peace table, never lost sight of their ultimate goal: control of all Vietnam. As the unpublished papers put it, "Who shall govern SVN is what the war is all about."

Lesson No. 3 — With a patience unknown in the West, the Hanoi leaders are prepared to outwait and outlast all enemies. "We have been fighting for our independence for four thousand years," Premier Pham Van Dong told intermediaries who approached him in 1967 with a peace offer. "We have defeated the Mongols three times. The United States Army, strong as it is, is not as terrifying as Genghis Khan."

Lyndon Johnson's game of now-we-bomb-now-we-don't, according to the peace papers, repeatedly backfired.

An exchange of peace messages through the Poles, for example, ended abruptly with the bombing of Hanoi on Dec. 13-14, 1966. Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin later reviewed with Secretary of State Dean Rusk why the contact had been broken off. "The bombing was just before that date." Dobrynin explained Hanoi's response meaning "the U.S. thought it could pressure Hanoi to talk."

Yet the same scenario was repeated when the American embassy in Moscow tried to resume contact with the North Vietnamese. The exchanges continued throughout a Tet truce until the U.S. on Feb. 13, 1967, resumed the bombing of North Vietnam.

Suddenly the exchanges were cut off, and a conciliatory U.S. note to the North Vietnamese embassy in Moscow was returned marked "unacceptable."

The following June, the Norwegian ambassador to Peking, after a visit with the North Vietnamese ambassador reported: "He said that formerly when North Vietnam showed an interest in negotiations, Americans had taken such interest as a sign of weakness with results of stronger escalation."

Henry Kissinger, meanwhile, got a dialogue going in Paris between two French intermediaries and North Vietnam's Mai Van Bo. But on Aug. 21-22, 1967, President Johnson again dispatched his bombers to hit sensitive targets around Hanoi.

This ended the dialogue. "The bombing of Hanoi," said Bo, "at the same time as the sending of the Aug. 21 (peace) message constitutes a pressure."

The papers quote a Soviet diplomat as saying the North Vietnamese regarded bombing of their homeland as an effort "to get Hanoi to talk." The refusal to talk while the bombs were dropping, he said, "was a direct response" to the U.S. position.

Nevertheless, President Nixon has now stepped up the bombing again as a means of wringing concessions out of the Hanoi leadership. But he, too, is finding the North Vietnamese fiercely stubborn. Their attitude is expressed in a secret quotation from Premier Pham Van Dong.

"President Johnson is suffering from a pain, and this pain is called South Vietnam," the North Vietnamese premier told peace emissaries in 1967. "We agree that the situation on the battlefield is decisive; the game is being played in South Vietnam.

"From the newspapers we see that some people want to confine the war to the South. However, the White House and the Pentagon seem determined to continue the war against the North. Therefore, we think that attacks on the North are likely to increase.

"We have made provisions for attacks on our dikes; we are ready to accept war on our soil. Our military potential is growing because of aid from the USSR and other Socialist countries ...

"We fight only when we choose; we economize on our resources; we fight only for political purposes."

The lessons outlined in the unpublished Pentagon Papers should be studied carefully by those who still are seeking peace in Vietnam.

Flood waters of the Missouri river have so disrupted train service of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad south and east of New Franklin, that it has become necessary to establish a portion of the division headquarters in Sedalia.

40 years ago

Sedalia will be represented at the Democratic National Convention to be held in Chicago, beginning Monday according to early reports of those who left Saturday ... Ira E. Melton a delegate to the convention from the Seventh Congressional District, in company with Mr. and Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, departed at 6 o'clock Friday night, motoring through.

M'Govern facing a challenge

WASHINGTON — The Democratic party's credentials committee is about to play host to some scraps that could make the battle of An Loc look like tiddly-winks.

Of the 2,512 delegates selected at this writing, 1,082 already have been challenged, setting the stage for a crunching series of donnybrooks unless the federal courts stick to a ruling that challenges relating to the number of youths, women and blacks may not be entertained.

Rowan

But the challenge having the greatest bearing on the movement to "stop McGovern" is unaffected by the federal court ruling and offers the biggest headache of all to credentials chairman Patricia Harris and the 150-member committee.

This is the challenge to California, where Sen. George McGovern got 45 per cent of the vote but won all 271 convention votes on a winner-take-all basis.

Four other Presidential candidates (Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Rep. Shirley Chisholm, Sen. Henry Jackson and Sen. Edmund Muskie) have would-be California delegates who are going all out to try to take away 144 delegates from McGovern. Their lawyers will argue before the credentials committee, which began two weeks of hearings here Monday, and they say they will take their fight to the convention floor in Miami if necessary.

The loss of 144 California votes could be devastating to McGovern's chances of locking up the nomination.

Ed Weisl Jr., one of the lawyers who will argue for the Humphrey forces, is predicting victory, primarily on the basis that McGovern people on the credentials committee "cannot possibly vote against reform, and in favor of a winner-take-all system, when McGovern himself is on record against winner-take-all."

Asked if he really expected McGovern to fight for an after-the-election California reform that would wreck his Presidential chances, Weisl replied:

"The reformers have to live with reforms, even when the reforms hurt them, or else they have to eat their words. I rather think that McGoverrf will have his belly full before this one is over."

Weisl is referring to the fact that as chairman of the Commission on Party Structure and Delegate Selection, McGovern voted for abolition of California's winner-take-all system. The abolition effort failed by one vote when Fred Dutton, a Californian and former special assistant to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, cast a no-reform vote so as to keep California a critical power at the 1972 convention.

★ ★ ★

In the report, "Mandate for Reform," McGovern and the commission noted: "One issue of special concern to the commission was the fair representation of supporters of each Presidential candidate on the state's delegation. Many witnesses at our hearing believed that the unrestrained application of majority rule in primary, convention and committee systems produced much of the bitterness and divisiveness characteristic of 1968."

As an example of unfairness, the report went on to state: "In California, a 'winner-take-all' primary state, Sen. Robert Kennedy received 46 per cent of the vote (compared to 42 per cent for Sen. Eugene McCarthy and 12 per cent of the slate ultimately committed to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey). The delegation pledged to Sen. Kennedy became the sole representatives of California Democrats to the national convention."

This was one of the things McGovern referred to when he said: "The guidelines that we have adopted are designed to eliminate the inequities in the delegate selection process discussed in the last chapter. We view popular participation as the lifeblood of the national convention system; any compromise with this threatens the future of the convention."

Lawyers for the other Democratic candidates in the California primary will argue that Rule B-6 of the guidelines obligated the party in California to act to change the "winner-take-all" system.

"They didn't do a thing," Weisl complains, adding that he can't see how reformer McGovern can ask to benefit from a setup he recently deplored.

Democrats seeking to deprive McGovern of those 144 California delegates say that if they lose in the credentials committee they will win at the convention because "those 271 Californians pledged to McGovern won't be able to vote on a question of their own legality."

What it adds up to is a very serious challenge which suggests the amazing South Dakotan is far from home-free in the contest for Democratic nomination. And the Democrats are far from free of the bickering that so devastated them four years ago.

Jim: "How about showing some really unusual plays this week?"

Oswald: "I bet you have one in mind."

Jim: "That I do. It is sometimes called the Coon coup because it was played by Charles Coon of Boston a few years ago. South won the first trick with his ace of hearts; drew trumps with one lead; cashed dummy's ace of diamonds; ruffed dummy's last diamond and played a heart. Charley took his two heart tricks and led the jack of clubs!"

Oswald: "The only play to give the defense a chance and one that could not possibly hurt him."

Jim: "No. It couldn't. Charley had a perfect count of the distribution. He saw that if East held the club queen any club play would beat the contract. If South held the queen and 10 there was no hope for the defense while if South held the queen and East the 10 the jack play would give declarer a chance to go wrong."

Oswald: "I take it South did go wrong."

Jim: "He sure did. It never occurred to him that Charley held the ace. His whole problem was where the 10 could be found and he decided to play Charley for it. He let the club ride to his queen. Charley ducked the club return as a matter of course and East made his 10."

Olympic Squad

John Brown Among Picks

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — The United States will pin its basketball hopes at the Olympics in Munich this summer on a dozen tall, speedy college and AAU players chosen Sunday after several weeks of workouts under former Oklahoma State Coach Henry Iba.

Iba singled out Jim Brewer, a 6-foot-9 center-forward from the University of Minnesota as his top prospect, but added that all 12 men are excellent shooters and quick defensively.

"If things develop as we hope, the board power should be exceptionally strong on the defensive end of the court," said Iba. He added, however, that the squad's weaknesses are its lack of experience in playing under Olympic rules and its need for better defensive play in the middle.

Swen Nater, the 6-11 backup center to UCLA's Bill Walton last season, led the 12 in scoring during 28 practice games played this past week by the five dozen prospects who attended the camp, averaging 21 points and 8.6 rebounds per game.

Brewer had a 15 points-per-game and 9.4 rebound average.

The tallest man on the team is North Carolina State's 7-4 center, Tom Burleson. He averaged just over 14 points a game in the workouts.

The coach and team members departed for their homes after the announcement of who was chosen. They will meet in San Francisco July 10 to resume practice, play exhibition games in Dayton, Ohio, and Los Angeles during August and leave for Munich about a week before the first scheduled Olympic game, Aug. 27.

Others named to the team were Doug Collins of Illinois State; Ed Ratleff of Long Beach State; Mike Bantom of St. Joseph's, Pa.; John Brown of the University of Missouri; Kenny Davis of the Marathon Oil AAU team; Tom Henderson, San Jacinto Junior College, Tex.; Bob Jones, North Carolina; Dwight Jones, Houston, and Kevin Joyce, South Carolina.

CENTRALIA — A two-run homer by Larry Newbill in the top of the ninth and a key strike out with the tying run at second base by Bob Pledge brought Sedalia their sixth straight Central Missouri Ban Johnson League victory here Sunday night, 12-11.

The wild affair saw Centralia take a four-run lead in the bottom of the first off starter Tom Morgan. Sedalia rallied for seven in the fourth to move ahead, 7-4. They scored three more in the eighth to gain a 10-5 lead, that looked like it was more than enough for the team's sixth win against no defeats.

Little did Sedalia know how much they would need Newbill's homer with Larry Neville aboard in the top of the ninth. That made the score 12-5, virtually a sure victory.

But Centralia sent 10 men to the plate during their last chance in the game, and nearly pulled off a big come-from-behind victory. Centralia, who had been held to only five hits through the first eight frames, came up with seven hits in their six run outburst.

With Bill Leath at second base and two out, the score 12-11, Sedalia manager "Salty" Schumaker inserted the team's winningest pitcher Bob Pledge. He ran the count to three balls and two stikes on Bill Bylamb before ending the contest with a strikeout.

The strikeout moved Sedalia's mark to 6-0 in the CMBJ's western division and strengthened their hole in the division race.

Other games Sunday found Columbia keeping their winning streak alive by downing Marshall, 9-0. Ray Ash went the distance for the A's in recording a three-hit shutout.

Boonville won over Tipton, 7-3, in the league's other contest. Denny Sercu was the winner.

Newbill, who took over the mound duties for Sedalia in the bottom of the seventh from Morgan, was the winning pitcher. The victory moves his record to 2-0. Pledge got the save.

Left fielder Steve Gerlecz led the Sedalia hitting attack with four hits in six trips; he knocked in three runs with his three doubles and one home run.

Larry Neville, the team's leading hitter, had a pair of triples and two rbi.

Sedalia returns home Thursday night to play Marshall in Liberty Park Stadium at 8 p.m.

Hull Close To Signing WHA Pact

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The World Hockey Association is taking a $2.5 million airplane ride Tuesday in two countries in hopes of bringing National Hockey League superstar Bobby Hull to the Winnipeg Jets and adding credibility to its fledgling organization.

The WHA, gearing for its first season in October, has scheduled news conferences in St. Paul and Winnipeg, Man., hopefully to announce the signing of the 33-year-old Golden Jet who is the second leading all-time goal scorer in NHL history.

Gary L. Davidson, WHA president, is to present Hull, whose contract with the NHL Chicago Black Hawks expired at the end of the 1971-72 season, with a check for $1 million.

Then it's back aboard the airplane for a return trip to Winnipeg, where a second entourage of officials will be escorted to the city's busiest intersection and a second ceremonial signing.

This one is for a $1.5 million agreement with the Winnipeg Jets to serve as player and coach.

At Olympic Trials

Seagren Seeking 18-6

GRESHAM, Ore. (AP) — Premier pole vaulter Bob Seagren looked a little puzzled, thought a moment and then recalled what happened at the inaugural Rose Festival track and field meet.

"Oh yeah," he said, "I was very tired in that one. I had just flown in from the East Coast."

Seagren, representing the Southern California Striders, moments earlier was upset at not clearing the bar beyond 17 feet 6½ inches.

He probably didn't feel so badly when he remembered his performance at the festival inaugural meet two years ago. His best vault that day: 15-6.

Seagren, who won Saturday's event, has vaulted 18-4¼ this year, a pending world record. He now heads for Eugene and the Olympic Trials beginning Thursday. "I'm hoping for at least an 18-6 at the trials, but quite frankly I'd like to go higher," he said.

Sweden's Kjell Isaksson shares the pending world mark of 18-4¼. Steve Prefontaine, two-time winner of Oregon's outstanding amateur athlete award, set an American record in the 3,000-meter run. South African John Halberstadt, the NCAA winner at 10,000 meters, whipped a strong field in the 5,000.

Prefontaine won the seldom-run 3,000 meters in 7:45.8, toppling the record of 7:54.2 set by Jim Beatty in 1962.

Halberstadt, who attends Oklahoma State, reached back for something extra at the finish, nipping Jeff Galloway of the Florida Track Club with a 13:43.9 clocking to Galloway's 13:44.1. Four others finished within the 13:57 U.S. Olympic qualifying standard, with Mike Keogh of the New York Athletic Club qualifying for Ireland's trails with a 13:46.7 fourth place time.

Royals Sign Eight More to Contracts

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Royals have signed eight more players, including two selected in the free agent draft earlier this month.

The two draftees signed are catcher Karl Jacobson, No. 5 draft choice, from Montgomery, N.Y., and shortstop Jim Auringer of Syracuse, N. Y. Auringer was a high school pitcher but will be shifted to shortstop by the Royals.

The other six players are free agents not selected in the draft. They are pitchers Gary Harris and Mike Sepulveda of Orange, Calif.; infielder John Cassibry of Rustin, La.; pitcher Bary Woodruff of Woodside, Calif.; infielder Dan Conway of Schenectady, N.Y., and outfielder Mike Aldridge of Greenville, S.C.

Petty Beats Heat, Field

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

Richard Petty won the 145th race of his career in 100 degrees in Texas, Ralph Latham enjoyed bright sunshine in romping to victory in Indiana and a spring bubbled over a little bit too much in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania.

Those were the highlights of the weekend's auto racing program, one of the lightest of a record-setting season thus far.

Petty, driving a 1972 Dodge, finished a lap ahead of chief adversary Bobby Allison to cop the Lone Star 400-mile race for National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing Grand National stock cars at Texas International Speedway at Bryan.

The tall veteran from Randleman, N.C., grabbed the lead on the 136th circuit of the two-mile Texas layout and fought off challenges by both Allison and Dodge-driving Bobby Isaac to average 144.185 miles per hour for the 250 laps.

Latham, of Cincinnati, drove a Chevrolet to a quarter-lap victory in a 100-lap dirt track event for U.S. Auto Club stockers at Terre Haute. Bay Darnell of Deerfield, Ill., was second in a Dodge and Chuck McWilliams of Walton, Ky., was fourth in a Plymouth.

At Pocono, Pa., where qualifying was to have been held Saturday and Sunday to set a 33-car field for the $400,000 Schaefer 500, a spring under the third turn at Pocono International Raceway bubbled up persistently to shut the track down for the sixth straight day Sunday.

With six of the seven scheduled practice days having been washed out by rains that flooded much of Pennsylvania, time trials were set back to Thursday and Friday of this week.

The race, the second jewel in USAC's "Triple crown" of 500-mile events that include Indianapolis and Ontario, Calif., is scheduled for July 2. The winner will be paid about $100,000—third largest first place check in auto racing.

Among the entries are Bobby Unser—he clocked 185.299 m.p.h. in practice last Tuesday—and his brother, Al Unser; Roger McCluskey, Gordon Johncock, 1971 inaugural Schaefer winner Mark Donohue, Pete Revson, Gary Bettenhausen and Marion Andretti.

The two Unsers, along with McCluskey and Johncock, took time out from the dreary weather at Pocono to run in the stock car race at Terre Haute. They might have stayed in Pennsylvania.

Al Unser led most of the Terre Haute race in a Ford, but was knocked out of action by ignition problems with six laps remaining. He was credited with 15th place.

Bobby Unser went only 55 laps in a Plymouth before his engine brake, relegating him to 18th place. McCluskey, a three-time USAC stock car champ, was the early leader before he had to quit with handling problems after 58 circuits of the half mile oval.

Johncock did better. He managed 11th place in a Ford.

Schworer Sets Mark At E-Z Track

Rusty Schworer, Kansas City, set a record pace at the Saturday night go-cart racing program at E-Z Speedway, south of Sedalia.

Schworer turned in a torrid clocking of :22.4 to shave four-tenths of a second off the track's one-lap record.

He went on to win the slow heat, ahead of Ted Butler and Cris Schwemmer, as well as the slow feature.

David Price, Kansas City, won the fast heat, taking the checker in front of John Hill. Ben Schrimp was the super heat winner.

Hill captured the fast feature race, as well as the trophy dash.

The 22-cart field shared in the $30 purse and the trophies that were given away.

Racing is held each Saturday night at the track.

Kansas City Split Draws Mixed Emotions

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Roger Nelson was elated. Lou Piniella was surprised. Dick Woodson was downright mad.

These were the main characters in Kansas City's 8-3 come-from-behind victory over the Minnesota Twins in Sunday's second game of a double-header. The Twins won the opener 5-3.

Nelson was the winning pitcher. It was his first major league triumph since he beat Detroit 6-2 on three hits Sept. 2, 1969.

Piniella hit a fifth inning double with the bases jammed that wiped out a 3-0 Twins lead. It came off Woodson and produced the first three of seven runs in the frame.

After Piniella's hit, Woodson was removed. He stormed into the dugout and had heated words over his removal with Twins Manager Bill Rigney. No blows were struck but there were threatened gestures and loud talk.

Nelson, a right-hander troubled with poor circulation in his right hand, hurled 2 2-3 innings of relief to make his record 1-1. He allowed one hit, struck out four and walked nobody.

Nelson, entering the game with one out in the third and the bases loaded, struck out George Mitterwald. Rich Reese, who had tripled two runs across, was tossed out trying to steal home.

"I was throwing hard and low mostly," said Nelson, who hasn't yielded a run in his last eight appearances, 15 2-3 innings. His earned run average is .095. "Sure, my hand bothers me on breaking balls but I've got to live with it.

"It's been a long time since I won. I was sure glad Reese tried to steal home with the bases loaded. I was going to have to throw one in there until Reese . . . boy, I loved that."

Royals Manager Bob Lemon said the performance by "Nelson gave the team a lift."

Piniella, second in the American League batting race, said of his double:

"I surprised myself. I was 0 for 10. It was getting to be a struggle up there."

Before the inning was over, John Mayberry crashed a three-run home run, his seventh, off reliever Dave LaRoche after Richie Scheinblum had singled to drive in Piniella with the go-ahead run.

Rigney removed his glasses when Woodson, 5-6, displayed his anger. However, Harmon Killebrew and a couple of Twins coaches quickly restored order.

After the game, nobody, including Rigney or Woodson, would discuss the incident.

Killebrew struck the blow that won the first game for the Twins. He unloaded his ninth home run with Danny Thompson and Rod Carew on base in the third inning.

The blast over the left field fence came off Dick Drago, 5-6, spoiling the Royals pitcher's 27th birthday. The Twins made an unearned run in the second on Jim Nettles' infield single, Piniella's two-base error on Eric Soderholm's high fly and Bert Blyleven's single.

Carew drove in the other run in the fourth.

Blyleven was riding along without much difficulty until the last of the ninth when the Royals broke loose for all of their runs. Wayne Granger, who got his 12th save, took over for Blyleven, 8-8, after the bases were loaded on singles by Ed Kirkpatrick and Scheinblum and a walk to Mayberry.

Cookie Rojas singled, scoring Kirkpatrick and Scheinblum. Mayberry scored on a sacrifice fly. With two Royals on base, LaRoche got Fred Patek on a game-ending double play.

Jamieson Captures First Win

NORTHBROOK, Ill. (AP) — Jim Jamieson's victory in the Western Open was one of those beautiful happenings.

It was his first golf tournament triumph in four years on the PGA tour and it came in the friendly confines of his home state with 2,000 followers from his native Moline area forming the most enthusiastic army since Arnie's.

His parents, an uncle, the best man at his wedding, his old pro pal, Bob Fry of the Crow Valley Country Club in Davenport, Iowa, his wife, his 16-month-old son—they all were at the Sunset Ridge Country Club Sunday to see Jimmy Boy win.

And nobody has won by as big a margin this yea.. The chunky Jamieson, who has trimmed his weight to 217 pounds, finished with a 69 for a 271 total—13 strokes under par and six strokes ahead of his nearest rival, Labron Harris.

Harris charged with a closing 65 for 277, followed at 280 by Hale Irwin, Jim Wiechers and Bob Lunn. Five others were grouped at 281, including Tommy Aaron who was second, eight strokes behind.

The largest winning margin previously this season on the tour was Lee Trevino's four-stroke victory in the Memphis Open.

Jamieson, who came up from the caddy ranks at Oakwood Country Club in Moline and won the 1964 Chicago District Amateur and 1967 Illinois State Amateur, pocketed $30,000 in becoming the first Illinois player to join the Western Open since Chick Evans in 1910.

It boosted his 1972 earnings to $77,603 and his total as a pro to $149,458.

"I couldn't let them down, but I'll admit I was nervous when I started," he said of his "army."

Jamieson started the final round as if it shook him up. He bogied two of the first three holes, scuffing a shot in the rough and three putting.

Was his staggering eight stroke lead going to melt?

"The turning point came on the long fourth," he said. "I trapped my second shot, came out six feet from the cup and dropped the putt for a birdie. Then I knew I was on my way."

Jamieson birdied the seventh with a 16-foot putt from the fringe turning in 35, then birdied the 10th and 11th with 10 and 18-foot taps. A sliced drive cost him a bogey at No. 12, but he reached the 535-yard 14th in two for another birdie and did a little scrambling to match par on in for a 34.

He donated $2,000 to the Evans Caddy Scholarship Foundation, for which the Western Open was held.

Cards Sweep Pair

NEW YORK (AP) — When Bob Gibson and Joe Torre talk, Scipio Spinks and Rich Wise listen.

Spinks, who hadn't won a baseball game since May 19, fired a six-hitter and struck out 13 as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the New York Mets 7-1 Sunday in the opener of a doubleheader. Later, he related a chat about pitching he had with Gibson, the Cards' ace.

"Gibby said he sets the hitters up with a slider and tries to get them out with a fast ball," Spinks said. "I decided to try and set them up with a curve and get them out with my fast ball. It was the first time I've tried this pattern."

Then Wise went out and won the nightcap 2-1 on a four-hitter. Ted Simmons scoring the winning run from third base with two out in the ninth inning on ex-Met Donn Clendenon's pinch infield hit.

Wise, who walked Ed Kranepool and Wayne Garrett with two runners on base in the fourth inning to force in the Mets' only run, walked Dave Marshall to open the bottom of the ninth. That's when third baseman Torre took over.

"Joe came in and said to really go to them," Wise said. "So I went to my fast ball and I prevailed.

"I pride myself on my control and I was disappointed in the fact that I walked those two men in the fourth. In the ninth, it was imperative that I get the first hitter, but fortunately the walk to Marshall didn't hurt me.

"I got the first strike on Marshall and everyone in the dugout was yelling for me to get the leadoff hitter. It was foremost in my mind. Maybe I was trying a little too hard and in an effort to get something on the ball I was overstriding."

"Unconsciously, the more a pitcher tries to throw strikes, the more he starts to press," said catcher Simmons. "Consequently he loses his rhythm and it takes him two or three batters to get back in the groove. That's what happened to Rick. He had a little trouble and all of a sudden he snapped out of it."

Simmons doubled to open the ninth against reliever Danny Frisella and took third on Jose Cruz sacrifice. He remained there while Bernie Carbo, whose fifth-inning homer tied the score, struck out, but scooted home on Clendenon's slow hopper down the third base line.

The Mets have dropped three in a row and 12 of their last 17 starts and trail Pittsburgh by three games in the National League East. The fourth-place Cardinals have won five straight but still are 10½ games out.

"We had a horrendous start," said Wise, "but now we're coming around pitching and hitting-wise."

S-M Notches Two Tri-County Wins

The S-M Sporting Goods team stretched their Men's Tri-County Softball League record to 10-5 winning three of four weekend contests.

Saturday night they split with Permaneer, winning the opener behind Jim Steele, 14-3, but dropping the second game, 4-3. Roger Estep was the winning hurler.

S-M captured a Sunday twinbill against Cole Camp by the scores of 8-5 and 6-3. Gerald Abney and Steele were the winning pitchers.

The next league action will be Friday night against Stover at 7 p.m.

Anderson's 281 Captures WHCC Stroke Play Title

Bill Anderson posted a one-over, 72-hole total of 281 to capture the championship flight in the Walnut Hills Country Club's Stroke Play Tournament Sunday.

Second place in the championship division went to Dr. Clifford Kateman at 295; three strokes behind him was Ralph Walker in third.

Fran Tray's 311 was tops in A-flight; Jim Dick captured the B-flight top honors with a 333; the C-flight winner was Bob Curry with a 361, while Steve Bond was the winner in D-flight at 370.

Ray Warbritton posted a 324 for second-place honors in A-flight; Morris Brown was third at 330. Bob Cummings and Ray Paul tied at 341 for the runner-up position in B-flight; second place in C-flight and D-flight went to Ralph Viebrock and Don Braden respectively.

This weekend, WHCC will host a Two-man Hollywood Tournament. Eighteen holes will be played each day, with the flights being decided on Saturday's scores.

Kingsville Youth Wins P, H, T Title

KANSAS CITY — A Kingsville, Mo., 10-year-old boy won that division's title in the Pitch, Hit and Throw competition, Sunday, at Municipal Stadium.

He finished ahead of Tim Deal of Aurora, Colo., to capture the 10-year-old title.

Other winners were: Chris Montreal, Littleton, Colo.; 9-year-old division; Jim Demmell, Omaha, Neb., 11-year-old division and Rex Slaughter, Rifle, Colo., 12-year-old division.

At 'Jesus Festival' Here

'Jesus Festival' Draws 200

Young and old, clean-cut and shaggy-haired, about 200 Sedalians turned out for the city's first "Jesus Festival" Saturday night in Liberty Park.

The two hours of music combined with conversation was organized by the Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Hayes, 315 East Boonville.

Some of the multitude lingered in their cars parked along Liberty Park Ave., while still more sprawled out on the grass and park benches near the bandstand.

Two unexpected events occurred during the festival — one could have made the festival a failure, had it not been for the other surprise.

Five young musicians from Dallas, Tex., "dropped in" on their way from an engagement in Kansas City to a one night stand at the New Wine Jesus coffee house, Broadway and Hancock.

The group, called "Christian People," asked if they could perform and ended-up lending their public address system to other groups in the festival after the main speaker network failed to function properly.

Sedalia groups taking part in the festival were: Parkview Christian Church; Sacred Heart Catholic Church and the Church of God and Christ. Other groups taking part in the festival were from Columbia, Slater and Marshall.

Stevenson Sees Lack Of Purpose

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., was the principal speaker here Saturday night at a fund-raising dinner for Rep. Bill Roy, D-Kan.

Stevenson said despite its vast resources of money, manpower and technology "we lack a sense of national direction, of strong moral purpose."

The Illinois senator said evidence of the lack of a sense of national direction, of strong moral commitment is everywhere from the wheat fields of Kansas to the rice paddies of Vietnam.

"As we confront our friends—for example, India and Japan—and negotiate with our adversaries, one looks in vain for our policy—a coherent, rational, articulate strategy for America."

Stevenson said it would be better for the national self-respect and self-interest "if we harmonized our actions in the world with our own best principles, then we could get on with our business as a prosperous, peace-loving people."

Stevenson said he has been greatly concerned about the vast upheaval taking place in rural America, with a decline in the number of farms and fewer and fewer people, or businesses, owning more and more land.

"One of the most disturbing aspects of this revolutionary change is that it has taken place without any real debate on public policy affecting the future direction of rural America," Stevenson said.

About 500 persons attended the $25 a plate dinner for the 2nd District congressman, the only Democrat representing Kansas in Washington.

Mrs. Georgia Neese Gray, former treasurer of the United States, was toastmistress for the dinner. Atty. Gen. Vern Miller spoke briefly in praise of Roy.

Reservoir Is Formally Dedicated

STOCKTON, Mo. (AP) — A 45-minute ceremony here Saturday marked the dedication of the 1.67 million-acre Stockton Reservoir, which spreads through Cedar, Dade and Polk counties in southwest Missouri.

Rep. Durward Hall, R-Mo., one of the principal speakers at the dedication, said:

"We're more aware than ever, as evidenced by recent court action, that announced plans for these reservoirs and impoundments are evoking increased opposition by the so-called ecologists or the environmental groups—many of which have no personal or associated stake in the outcome."

Hall's reference apparently was to a suit filed by the Environmental Defense Fund, Inc., a Washington-based conservation-oriented group, in an effort to bring to a halt the construction of the Harry S. Truman Dam and Reservoir north of the Stockton project.

The government and EDF attorneys are continuing to present their cases in U.S. District Court in Kansas City.

Construction of the Stockton Reservoir began in 1964, 10 years after it was authorized by Congress.

Traveling with the Kids

By JOY STILLEY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ever think about taking the kids to Europe with you? The very idea probably strikes fear in your heart. But it shouldn't, says travel expert Leila Hadley, who insists that it's easier and can be less expensive to travel in Europe with children than to leave them behind.

And she should know. She not only embarked on a two-year trip around the world alone with her oldest son when he was 4, but has traveled with her four children in 37 countries since then.

"Americans think it's such a strain to look after children on trips, and it is in this country," concedes Miss Hadley. "But abroad the child-care facilities are so extensive that you can have it both ways—share experiences with the kids or have the option of being on your own, knowing they are well cared for.

"By taking them along you save yourself a lot of worry and don't feel that you're being a neglectful parent. Also the child is more secure when there's not an ocean between you," she adds. "Besides, it's expensive putting them in summer camp or leaving them at home with a housekeeper."

Miss Hadley thinks Americans are not aware of the extensive services, entertainment and attractions available for youngsters in Europe. To meet this need she has written a book, "Fielding's Guide to Traveling with Children in Europe."

"The whole point is to have a positive attitude. Kids know when their parents are happy and relaxed and that makes them happy and relaxed," says Miss Hadley, who took her first trip at the age of six months to Scotland, and continued to visit her mother's family there every year.

It was after her divorce that she went with her son, now 27, around the world by freighter and three-masted schooner. "I wanted to be somewhere where everything was fresh and new," she recalls. After she remarried, her husband's job as a geologist took the family all over the world and she has lived in Africa, in the Caribbean, in Central America and the Far East, as well as Europe.

"Sharing with children brings a totally new dimension to the travel experience," she points out. "It's more fun, people are nicer when you have them along and you see things through different viewpoints—that of the parents, who know the historical background, and that of the kids, who see things with a fresh and curious eye."

There are many more choices about where to stay in Europe than in America, Miss Hadley notes, from a farmhouse at $3 a night, or a little country inn at $8, on up to the more luxurious hotels. She says reasonably-priced eating places are generally available also, and it is easy to picnic abroad.

Among the child-care facilities that give parents short-time or long-time freedom for their own pursuits she suggests these: Hotels with playrooms, resident nannies and diaper-drying facilities; day kindergartens; ski schools; camps; a few department stores with playrooms and child care; children's tours of major cities; supervised children's playgrounds, "and there are inexpensive and very reliable, very competent baby sitters everywhere—100 baby-sitting agencies in the Netherlands alone," she says.

Miss Hadley thinks preparation is an important part of the trip and that it is vital to everyone's enjoyment to "bone up" on the countries to be visited.

August 11 was set as the date for the annual ice cream social at the business meeting which followed, presided by Mrs. Ben Bell, president.

Georgetown Homemaker's Club met Wednesday at the Community Hall with Mrs. E. Thorp and Mrs. L. F. James hosting.

Plans were made by the 14 members who answered roll call for the July picnic at Butterfield Boys Ranch in Marshall.

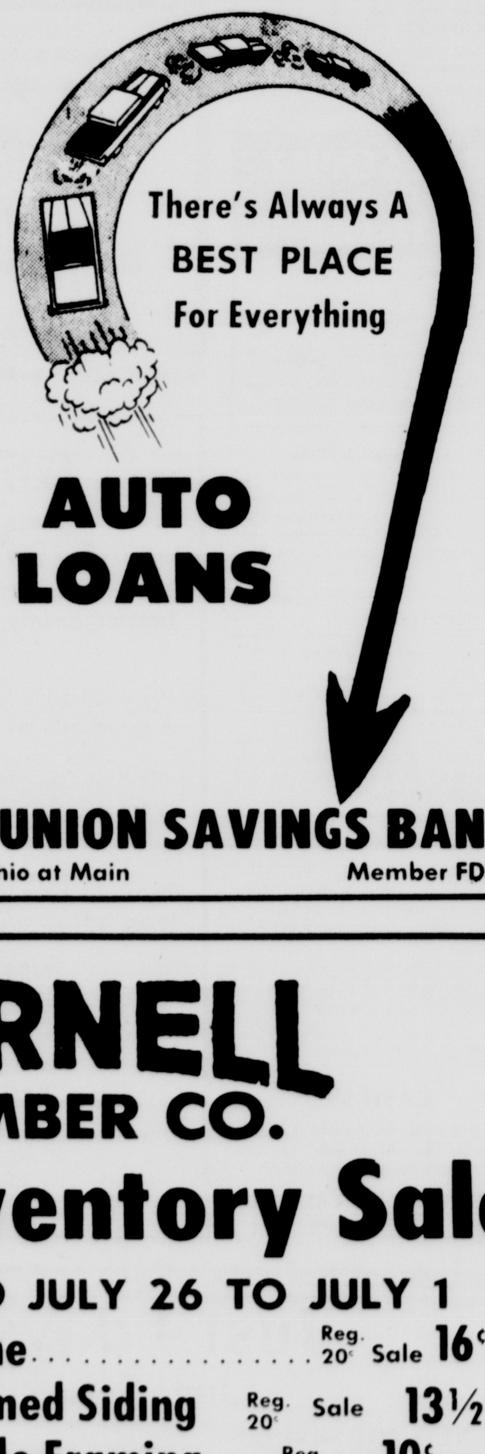

Mrs. Elson Kreisel conducted the business meeting and gave a program on first aid.

Wants Suggestion For Leftover Yarn

By POLLY CRAMER
Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I have made many crewelwork pictures and pillows, so consequently have a lot of leftover yarn and I would like some suggestions as to how this might be used. — MRS. H. L. F.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with greeting cards with a glossy or wax finish that are impossible to write on, either with a ballpoint or a regular pen. Manufacturers, please note. — MRS. F. G.

DEAR POLLY — Emma, who has wrinkles in her nylon curtains, should never wring them when she washes the curtains. When washed, add a little starch to the rinse water, put the curtains in a basket, carry out-of-doors and hang on the line while dripping wet. A windy day is best, as the wind should blow out any wrinkles. As the wrinkles are already in Emma's curtains, it may take two or three soakings to remove them. — ROSE

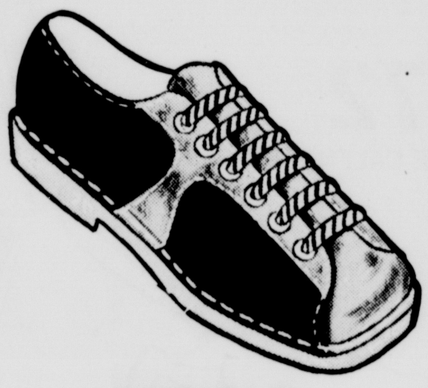

DEAR POLLY — My nylon marquisette curtains used to be a mess after washing, but now I sprinkle them and put waxed paper between the iron and the curtains and they look beautiful after ironing. I also use waxed paper to iron net. Hope this helps Emma. — MRS. J. C. B.

DEAR GIRLS — If long nylon curtains are hard to lift up and down so as not to get any wrinkles as they are being washed, try folding lengthwise and then over and over to make a square or rectangle and rub soapy water into them with the hands, being sure to keep turning so they get clean all the way through. Rinse the same way. NEVER squeeze or wring so wrinkles form during the laundering. After they drip-dry, if the hems do not look as nice as you would like, push the ironing board up against the window and press hems with curtains still hanging. — POLLY

the boss' promise

VALUE:

Your money should buy the maximum quality at a minimum price. But my promise to you is that for value, nobody in town can or will offer you more value for your money than Kroger.

If for any reason you feel that any part of my promise is not being fulfilled to you, I want to hear from you directly. Simply ask your Kroger store manager for my private number and call me.

We're dedicated to the proposition that there's always something extra in store for you at Kroger, and I want to follow through personally on my promise to see that you get it. "Everything you have a right to expect . . . We'll do our level best to give you."
